

Cathedral Cove 2020

Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc

Named after one of New Zealand's most picturesque beach settings where the naturally formed archways emulate the interior of a Cathedral, this range of wine comes from an area just as tranquil. The grapes are selected from the eastern side of the north island where the peaceful and quiet atmosphere makes up one of New Zealand's most respected wine growing regions.

TASTING NOTES

Punchy tropical fruits and hints of lemon pith and fresh lime. The palate is clean and fresh with lively acidity surrounding a core of passionfruit and ripe tropical flavours.

WINE REVIEW

VINEYARDS AND WINEMAKING

The grapes for this wine were harvested in our Marlborough vineyard and transported to a contract facility for dejuicing and settling. The clear juice was transported by road tanker to our Katikati winery, where it was fermented in stainless steel tanks at around 12°C using AC and QA23 yeast strains.

Following fermentation the wine was blended, protein stabilized, cold stabilized and fined. The finished wine was bottled in May 2020.
